How is it "realistic" that a perfect woman falls for a poor guy whose father by the way was pretty much murdered by the woman's father?

She has wealth, beauty, and the perfect personality for some odd reasons.

The reason I chose a setup like that is ...
The update stopped where the woman's daughter meets up with the guy and asks why he is still going after her even when he knows the truth.
In addition,

Or rather you don't even need to explain. Why would any sane guy reject such a perfect woman? Whatever kind her father is wouldn't matter at this point.

As you know, we are a new startup company and has no contracted authors. Even so, we cannot publish something that hasn't even been completed.
울컥!

A freelancer literature critic who is now working for a new startup company called "Stories and people".
You were once known for your good choices of words and perception.
I read the critique column of "Monthly literature" magazine.
So, I see how you can see flaws in my work easily.

I have yet to see any papers for a contract. I've come here for a contract.
You have no right to tell me what to do at this point. I am leaving.

And just so you know, the author of "The Praying man" is not Jeong Suk-Young. It was her twin sister, Jeong Suk-in.
Well, people do get confused about that often, still ...

Please! Speak more kindly! Are you going to bankrupt here?
Miss Kim, who is the author of "The Praying man"?
Yes? It's Jeong Suk-in. Why do you ask?
